

PUPPETS, donkeys, a steel band and a troop of dancers will take centre stage at a beach festival.

The brainchild of David Carlisle and Alison Nadin who run the Beachside Café at Rhyl Events Arena and supported by Rhyl Town Council, the Beachside Festival will provide activities galore on Rhyl's promenade on July 3.

Rhyl Mayor Cllr Sarah Roberts said: "The beachside event comes hot on the heels of our successful Royal Weekend and the Town Council is pleased to be sponsoring what promises to be another action-packed day. As well as staging our own events, the Town Council is also keen to support other events and activities in the town and we are also the main supporters of the upcoming Rhyl Air Show."

The Beachside Festival includes appearances from pirate Ricardo, live music from MVS Steel Band, a dog show, donkey rides, tombola and craft stalls and performances from Splitz & Sequins Dance Academy. Entry forms for the dog show are available from the café.

The event runs from 12 noon until 4pm on Sunday July 3.
