

WITH a spring in their step, three special visitors bounced into Rhyl as the countdown to the Christmas festivities got underway.

Elves Boris and Horace took time out to help Father Christmas find out just who has been naughty and nice this year.

The mischievous pair bounced and bobbed among Rhyl High Street shoppers as they helped Santa check his list. Helped on by music from Ghostbusters Community Choir, the festive duo had an overwhelming consensus.

Rhyl mayor Cllr Diane King said: “At the request of Rhyl Town Council and Father Christmas, our bouncing elves gave the high street and the good people of Rhyl the once-over and were delighted to report that everyone they saw was on the ‘good list.’

“The duo, and of course Santa, gave everyone a lift as we head into the festive season. Bouncing into Christmas brought some cheeky cheer to the town along with the wonderful Ghostbusters band, always playing infectious tunes, and face painting.”

The latest free activities from Rhyl Town Council wrapped up a year that has seen events make a comeback for the first time since the Covid outbreak. More are on the horizon for 2022, with details to be shared on Rhyl Town Council’s social media pages and website www.rhyltowncouncil.org.uk

Cap 1: Bouncing into Christmas were Aussie Elves Horace and Boris, Rhyl mayor Cllr Diane King and Santa.

Cap 2: Elf and Safety: Birthday girl Lucy turned 11 and marked the occasion with Alicia.

Cap 3: Hitting the right notes: Ghostbusters were a big hit once again.
